

L1: I can use noun phrases.

When we use descriptive language, we can make it even more precise by using two adjectives in front of the noun, separated by a comma.

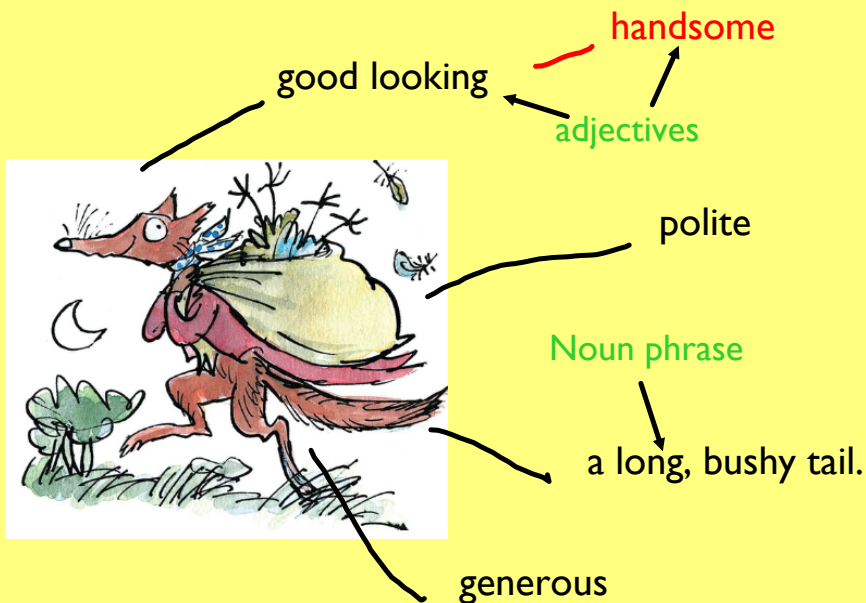

On your whiteboards, can you write your own noun phrases?

L1: I can use adjectives and noun phrases to describe a character.

Today we're going to prepare to write a paragraph tomorrow describing Mr Fox using precise adjectives and noun phrases.

We need to generate some adjectives and synonyms which help describe Mr Fox. We are going to pick out some features of his appearance as well as his personality.

LI: I can collect information from a character description.

Re-read the character descriptions in Chapter 1 of Boggis and Bunce and Bean.

Today we're going to write in the same style as Roald Dahl to write a character description about Mr Fox.

Boggis was a chicken farmer. He kept thousands of chickens. He was enormously fat. This was because he ate three boiled chickens smothered with dumplings every day for breakfast, lunch and supper.

Bunce was a duck-and-geese farmer. He kept thousands of ducks and geese. He was a kind of pot-bellied dwarf. He was so short his chin would have been underwater in the shallow end of any swimming-pool in the world. His food was doughnuts and goose-livers. He mashed the livers into a disgusting paste and then stuffed the paste into the doughnuts. This diet gave him a tummy-ache and a beastly temper.

Bean was a turkey-and-apple farmer. He kept thousands of turkeys in an orchard full of apple trees. He never ate any food at all. Instead, he drank gallons of strong cider which he made from the apples in his orchard. He was as thin as a pencil and the cleverest of them all.

Pick out features Roald Dahl uses:

- Short sentences
- Precise adjectives
- Similes
