

Fire Stone!

by Phillip Larson

"Run Beth, run! If they catch us now we're done for.' So run they do, like mice from a cat - into the blackness of a moonless night and with footsteps and gunshots close behind them."

Beth and Miguel are back for their new and exciting adventure – Fire Stone!

When they are invited to a fancy dress party at Glen Castle, little do they know that it will start them on a whirlwind journey which will take them across the snowy mountains of Switzerland and into the deep dark forests of Germany.

But they are not the only ones on the trail for the Fire Stone! Soon the treasure hunters find themselves not only in a race to find clues but also in a fight to stay alive.

Will Beth and Miguel find all the clues in time?
And who exactly are the two mysterious men who are chasing them?

To uncover these answers, join our two heroes as they race across Europe in search of a treasure long forgotten.

*"A brilliant book you will want to read again and again.
