

ASSESSMENT

Choose from one of the following question:

- How did the ancient Greeks use their location in the Mediterranean sea to their advantage when building and maintaining their civilisation?
- What evidence do we have from antiquity that the Ancient Greeks held drama in high esteem? You may want to consider how their theatres were built to encourage great crowds to attend, or you may want to reference any festivals they celebrated.
- What evidence do we have that Athenian society favoured the male population? How far do you think we have come in modern-day society to promote gender equality?
- Were the Olympic Games predominantly a religious festival, a sporting event or did they include elements of both? Include historical evidence to support your answer.
- Choosing one aspect of Ancient Greek culture, explain how this has had a subsequent impact on the Western world. You could consider the world of mathematics, politics, democracy, theatre etc.
