

Lesson 2: What are the roots of Muslim communities in the UK?

In the 2011 census there were 2,706,066 Muslim people living in England and Wales.

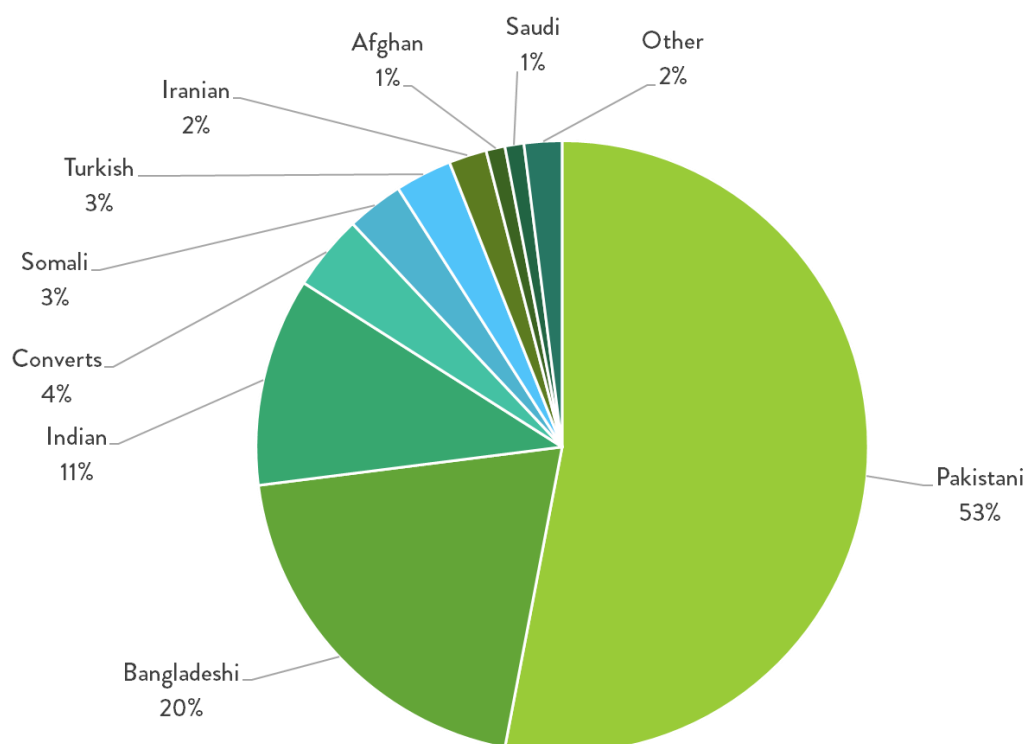

That's about 5% of the UK's population

About half of those people (47%) were born in the UK.

But there haven't always been so many Muslim people living here, many of them have moved to the UK in the last seventy years.

These are the places where Muslim communities in the UK originated from according to UK census data.

What are the roots of the three largest Muslim communities in Britain?

1. _____

2. _____

3. _____

Describe the roots of Muslim communities in Britain?
