

Film Title: The Quest II

[SCENE 16]

Setting: 2am, a dog is barking, a light wind is blowing litter across an empty car park.

Brad: [out of breath] That was close.

Kate: A bit too close if you ask me. Now let's go before the others get here.

Brad: Wait! [Puts up a hand] He must have one on him somewhere! [Begins rummaging through the dead man's pockets]

Kate: One what? [Looking puzzled]

Brad: [not looking up] Part of me wants him not to have one, but I've got a horrible feeling about this.

Kate: [frustrated] One what?

Brad: A dimension key. All The Dark Lord's men have one. It's how they can jump space and time here on Earth and not be caught.

Kate: And if he does have one, then we know he's been sent from Oberon, right?

Brad: [now looking in his inside pockets] Right!

Kate: But...but that's [shaking her head] impossible. We saw The Dark Lord die with our own eyes. I blew up the tanker myself.

[CUT TO SCENE 17]

Setting: Space Station Delta 3, Mission Control Room, a computer screen shows Brad and Kate in the car park.

The Dark Lord of Oberon: Nothing is impossible my dear...nothing! [Deep laughter follows. He turns to his chief drone] Send in Metamorph and tell him his orders are to catch them alive. They are the only people who know where the Book of Secrets is and know how to read it. Do I make myself clear?

Chief Drone: Yes, master. [Nods his head once and salutes]

The Dark Lord of Oberon: Then make it so. And this time, NO MISTAKES! [Bangs his fist on a computer panel and stares menacingly at the computer screen]
